Hixburg

Hixburg, July 26.- On Sunday, Aug. 6, at Walker's Presbyterian Church at Hixburg, at 10:30 A. M., there will be a homecoming and dedication. The electric organ and Sunday School rooms will be dedicated.

Two of these are memorial rooms furnished by descendants of ruling Elder, Mr, John H. Marshall, and wife, Susan Thornton and by descendants of ruling Elder Mr. Ernest H. Carson and wife, Emma Drinkard.

A generous contribution was sent from Texas towards furnishing the third room by a grandson of another ruling Elder, Mr. James Calhoun.

At 12:00 P. M., dinner will be served on the grounds.

The home-coming sermon will be preached by the Rev. Wilbur Maxwell, of Farmville, at 2:30 P. M. Mr. Maxwell joined this church when a boy.

Although the clouds were threatening, and there had been a gully-washer the day before, fifteen members of the Pamplin Home Demonstration Club had no trouble getting along the sanded road to the home of Mrs. Frank Irving on Thursday afternoon. There was a health program, and not a cook-out as had been planned. A letter from Miss Hatcher, county home agent, advising all members to have a physical check-up, was read.

The August program will be outdoor cookery, at the home of Mrs. Jim Williams, at 5:00 P. M., the third Thursday, August 17. Miss Haicher is to be present.

After the refreshments, the ladies gathered on the back lawn that looked like a picture in a magazine. There was a wide sweep of green interspesed with blooming flowers. To one side were a fireplace, a chimney, tables and benches, then there was a deep-drop, and a fish pond came into view. A close look revealed Edwin Fore calmly watching his fishing line, Just to see the place is worth the trip there.

Mrs. John Goin was taken to the Southside Community Hospital on Monday, July 17, for treatment.

On Monday, July 17, Mrs. Walter Carson and children joined Mrs. Paul Cave and children, of Farmville and motored to Bluefield, Va., for a week's vacation.

Mrs. Lillian Glenn Gilliam, of Roanoke wrote that she was having a wonderful tour abroad, and would be home August 1.

A big Martin family gathering was staged when 60 relatives went to Virginia Beach Thursday to stay until Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Rob Martin, of Hixburg, were included.

Subscription rate: $2.00 a year; payable in advance.
